“Undone (The Sweater Song)” ¹
Weezer

I’m me
Me be
Goddamn
I am
I can
Sing and
Hear me
Know me
If you want to destroy my sweater
Hold this thread as I walk away

Oh no
It go
It gone
Bye-bye
Who I
I think
I sink
And I die

(chorus)
If you want to destroy my sweater
Hold this thread as I walk away
Watch me unravel I’ll soon be naked
Lying on the floor, I’ve come undone

(repeat chorus)

If you want to destroy my sweater
(I don’t want to destroy your tank-top)
Hold this thread as I walk away
(lets be friends and just walk away)
Watch me unravel I’ll soon be naked
(hate you see you lyin’ there in your superman skivvies)
Lying on the floor, I’ve come undone

Is it Really Just About a Sweater or Something Deeper and Darker?

By Heather K. Adams

When the self-titled album by Weezer was released in May 1994, I was a sophomore in high school. As a very precocious (read 'know-it-all') 15 year old, I thought I had the greatest insight in the world.

So when the radio DJ asked listeners to call in and explain to him what 'Undone - The Sweater Song' by Weezer meant, I raced to the phone. I knew precisely what the meaning was behind the famous 'Sweater Song', and here was my chance to tell the world (or at least central North Dakota)!

I dialed the number to the radio station. I couldn't believe it when I got through! The DJ said "You're live and on the air..." Oh my god! I stuttered a little, but I managed to spit out the meaning of life... er, of Weezer's 'Undone - The Sweater Song'.

I had never been so humiliated in my life! The DJ ridiculed me! I vowed never again to tell anyone what I thought 'Undone - The Sweater Song' by Weezer meant again!

Well, until now... After 14 years of silence, I will now reveal my opinion of what 'Undone - The Sweater Song' by Weezer means.

For those who aren't familiar with 'The Sweater Song', the lyrics are very obtuse. The chorus states "If you want to destroy my sweater, pull this thread as I walk away. Watch me unravel, I'll soon be naked. Lying on the floor, lying on the floor. I've come undone."

Okay, so 'Undone' by Weezer is a song about a sweater, right? Wrong! It is my opinion that the sweater symbolizes something greater. His psyche.

Think about it! "If you want to destroy my sweater, pull this thread as I walk away." I believe Weezer is referring to a breakup, because further on in the song, the backup singers say "Let's be friends and just walk away." That wasn't terribly hard to figure out.

"Watch me unravel, I'll soon be naked." Here he says 'me', not 'it'. It's as if they're saying 'Unravel my brain, unlock my deep dark secrets, and I'll be exposed to you.'

"Lying on the floor, I've come undone." Again, Weezer chooses the personal pronoun 'I' instead of 'it'. To be exposed like that would be the end of his sanity.

Next time you're listening to your favorite 90s radio show and 'Undone - The Sweater Song' by Weezer comes on, keep this opinion in mind and see if you too can hear the deeper meaning behind the lyrics. Chances are 'The Sweater Song' will finally make sense.

"Oh no, it go. It gone, bye-bye... bye! Do I, I think, I sink, and I die!"
